

Award Leader Training January 28th 2017

On Saturday, January 28th, a training for Award leaders will take place at the Van der Valk Hotel in Eindhoven. This training is meant for everyone who would like to start leading participants of the International Award programme. Taking this course is compulsory for anyone who would like to start running the program. The duration of the training is only one day. With the participants who start a new Award Unit, a follow-up meeting will be arranged to talk about unit-specific needs.

The training will cover the following aspects:

- An extensive explanation of the programme and a deeper examination of all the sections and possibilities in the International Award for Young People.
- Discussing the role of the Award leader in organising the programme and supervising the participants, the young people.
- The national and international aspect of the organisation and the opportunities
- Discussing many examples, situations and questions to make all the information concrete.

The follow-up meeting with Award leaders who are starting a new Award Unit will focus on the preparation of the start-up phase and further plans of the programme at the school or within the organisation.
